Full Stack AI Generalist

Build, launch & run your own AI product — from idea to market with AI alone.

The only course that teaches you to BUILD, LAUNCH & RUN a product entirely with AI

The Full Stack AI Generalist is not just another AI tools course. The centrepiece is AI-powered Product Development — you will go from idea to a real, launchable product using AI alone. Along the way you master AI image & video generation, open source models, prompt engineering, AI Agents that work autonomously on your behalf, and complete Workflow Automation to run entire business processes without human intervention. By graduation, you will have built and shipped something real. One person with AI can now do what used to require an entire company. No prior experience needed.

WHO IS THIS FOR? Any stream / Any background. Business owners, students, professionals — everyone builds a product.
